

ABSTRACT

In the optical disk apparatus, an arbitrary seed data for randomizing is added to an original data to be recorded on a disk. One-bit randomizing data is 5 determined by operation using one-bit original data or seed data, and plural-bit past randomized data. At the time of descrambling, descrambling is performed without seed data.